Gains Continue in Economic Boom

Washington Reports Job Picture Brightens in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economic boom passed new milestones last month as factory production scored an 11th consecutive advance and the government reported a breakthrough in the fight against unemployment.

Fewer Jobless

Industrial production for July was 5 1/2 per cent higher than a year ago and stood at 132.7 on the Federal Reserve Board's index of factory and mine output that uses 100 for the 1957-59 period as a base.

The Labor Department, analyzing employment and unemployment figures for the first seven months of 1964, reported that employment during the period averaged 1.6 million above 1963 levels. At the same time the labor force increased by an average of only 1.4 million.

"Recent improvements appear to have broken the 10-year upturn in unemployment," the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics concluded.

Last week, the bureau had put the July jobless rate at a seasonally adjusted figure of 4.9 per cent — the first time in 4 1/2 years the rate dropped below 5 per cent.

Statistics on Job

"During the spring and summer of 1964," the bureau said Friday, "the unemployment rate has moved significantly below the 5.5 per cent mark for the first time since early 1960 and in July actually dipped under 5 per cent. Prior to 1964, the unemployment rate in each of the last three periods of business recovery had leveled off at a higher point than before the recession began."

The average unemployment rate for the first seven months of 1964, the bureau said, was 5.3 per cent, compared with 5.7 per cent during the same period last year.

Automobile production continued at a record level, although there were some cutbacks in preparation for the annual model changeover.

Increases also were reported in production of consumer staples, sets, furniture, most household goods, iron and steel, construction materials and most other materials.

Says Guns Sold By Army in Hands Of Minutemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Since 1959 the Army has sold 539,267 rifles and other guns to National Rifle Association (NRA) members and has spent at least $12 million for its program of supplying guns and ammunition to civilians.

The Army supplied these figures to Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., who has accused the service of allowing the weapons and ammunition to fall into the hands of the Minutemen, a militant organization. Its members say they are training for what they expect to be guerrilla combat against a Communist takeover of the United States.

The Army has said it is sure that "arms and ammunition do not fall into unscrupulous hands."

Gonzalez has replied that "the federal government has no way in the world of knowing who the 400,000 persons receiving free guns and ammunition are or what they are doing with their military aid."

Slugs Border Guard But Isn't Arrested

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. authorities are amazed that the East German regime did not imprison a young American college student who says he slugged three Communist border guards in a dispute over money.

The student, James Connor, 19, of Glenside, Pa., told State Department officials Friday that the Reds had detained him three hours. He said he had struck a guard who had said the East German marks he had purchased in West Berlin would be confiscated.

Connor said the guard was about to hit him first because, instead of signing a statement that the money would be confiscated, he tore it up. The student said the blow shattered the guard's glasses.

Connor, a junior at Holy Cross College, is hitchhiking through Europe.

Tribe Adopts Mrs. Johnson

Names Her 'Pretty Walking Bird' in Wyoming Ceremony

BY FRANCIS LEWINE JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — Barnstorming Lady Bird Johnson won over the Crow Indians and headed for Mormon territory today as "Pretty Walking Bird."

That's the name bestowed on the First Lady in a colorful tribal ceremony in which she was adopted by the plains tribe on a visit to their vast reservation near Billings, Mont., Friday.

Today Mrs. Johnson's schedule took her to Utah to ride an aerial tramway, meet with David O. McKay, 90, president of the 2-million-member Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormons) and speak at the University of Utah.

Political Tour

Far from a simple sightseeing excursion, the four-day Western trip of the President's wife was taking on more and more political significance.

She was treated to a sampling of pro-Goldwater sentiment in this tourist spot nestled beneath the ruggedly spectacular Teton Mountains. "We Want Barry" signs were waved amid a crowd of some 2,000 that filled the town's park for a welcome.

For the First Lady Friday night, Mrs. Johnson didn't seem to notice local backers of the Republican presidential candidate.

But in a politically oriented arrival speech in Billings, her first stop, Mrs. Johnson had pointedly declared, "This is not a part of the world that looks backward or listens to those who do."

The radio station at Jackson, which was to carry Mrs. Johnson's arrival speech, earlier ran a series of paid political spots in which teen-aged girls chanted "We want Barry."

Tentative Suspension

84 Youths Who Defied Travel Ban Told to Give Up Passports

BY HILMI TOROS

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Department has "tentatively withdrawn" the passports of 84 American youths who visited Cuba in defiance of a U.S. ban.

On their return Friday night at Kennedy Airport, three of the youths were summoned to appear Sept. 3 before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Told to Yield Passports William T. McNulty, chief of the Immigration and Naturalization Service unit at the airport, said the 84 passports were stamped for admission to the United States, but were not stamped revoked.

Notices of withdrawal were given the youths, and they were told to turn in their passports.

Some 40 young men and women, cheering and waving placards, met the planes as they arrived from Paris. The group had traveled via Paris and Prague to Cuba.

One of those summoned to testify before the House committee, Edward Lemansky, 24, of New York shouted: "I proudly proclaim that I'm a Communist. I'm an American or Brooklyn Communist."

Another one, Yvonne Bond, 23, of San Francisco, who would keep them," read one of the placards carried by the welcoming.

"I am also a Communist, and I committee. Others said: "Bomb the Ban," (a reversal of the pacifist slogan "Ban the Bomb"); "We Dig Cuba," and "Cuba, Yeah. Yeah. Yeah."

Among the welcomers was Albert Maher, 22, son of a Houston, Tex., oil millionaire. He had provided bail for William Epton, a self-described Communist who was arrested in connection with the Harlem race riots last month. Maher was summoned to appear before the House committee, as was Morton Slater, who would give no address.

At Least 2 Die Building Blast

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An explosion wrecked a two-story building housing a luncheonette and apartments in a suburban area today.

Cheltenham Township police said they understood at least two persons were killed, and six or seven others injured.

Police said the blast apparently was caused by gas.

Red-Backed Rebel Forces Press Drive To Control Congo

New Attacks Reported in Regions 700 Miles Apart

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) — Communist-backed rebel forces are stepping up their bid to win control of the turbulent Congo as U.S. planes begin ferrying hard-pressed government troops to troubled spots.

Renewed rebel assaults broke out Friday 700 miles apart in the vast and mineral-rich nation amid new evidence that the Chinese Communists are backing the insurgents. U.S. officials discussed the government's plight with Premier Moise Tshombe while in Washington.

Rebel forces advanced to within 12 miles of Bukavu, the capital of central Kivu Province.

Planes on First Mission In the west, Peking-trained Pierre Mulele's warriors came within 20 miles south of Kikwit in Kwilu Province. His forces totaled more than 2,000 men, reports said.

The rebel thrusts came as four U. S. C-130 planes took off on their first mission to aid the shaky government army.

More than 100 Americans, including 40 paratroopers, arrived Friday.

A military source said one of the four U.S. cargo planes flew to Bukavu, where six rebels were reported killed and several others captured.

Liberal Party In New York For Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — Alex Rose, vice chairman of the Liberal party, says the party will support Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as Democratic candidate for New York's U.S. Senate seat and predicts Mayor Robert F. Wagner will endorse Kennedy, possibly next week.

Rose said Friday that the Liberal party, which usually gets about 400,000 votes, which could swing an election, will back Kennedy if he is nominated at the State Democratic Convention Sept. 1.

Wagner, several hours after Rose had made his statement, said he would make no decision until he had seen Kennedy, which he is expected to do next week. Wagner has said Kennedy would make a good candidate but has withheld formal endorsement. Kennedy has said he will not make the race without the mayor's "express approval."

Kennedy resides in Virginia and votes in Massachusetts. He is expected to attend the Democratic National Convention as a delegate from the Bay State.

Supporters of Kennedy point to Article 1 of the federal Constitution, which says that "no person shall be a senator who shall not... when elected be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen." They say this means that he would be eligible for election from New York if he took up residence in the state by election day.

Cypriot Official Flies to Athens For Conference

Foreign Minister Says Independence Must be Achieved

BY ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou flew unexpectedly to Athens today for new talks with the Greek government on the Cyprus crisis.

Before leaving Kyprianou told newsmen his Greek Cypriot government is not interested in any halfway solutions for the crisis involving the island's Greek and Turkish factions. He said the only way out is to give Cyprus complete and unfettered independence.

"There is no room for compromise along this line," he said.

Message From Mararios After Kyprianou's arrival in Athens, usually reliable sources said he was carrying an urgent message from President Archbishop Makarios regarding Sunday's 24-hour visit by U.N. mediator Sakari Tuomioja.

The source said Makarios, wary of any future Greek moves without his knowledge, had sent Kyprianou to Athens to ask Greek officials what they intended to tell Tuomioja.

The officials, including Premier George Papandreu, interrupted weekend holidays to meet with Kyprianou.

The New York Times, in a dispatch from Ankara, Turkey, said Greece, which exerts a strong influence over the government on Cyprus, has come around to the position that Turkey cannot be denied a "sovereign physical presence on Cyprus."

The dispatch said Turkey's minimum objective is a military base on the island, which is less than 50 miles off the Turkish coast.

The Times added: "She (Turkey) also wants the outnumbered Turkish Cypriot community to become a part of Turkey or, if Cyprus remains a single independent country, part of a federal system with Turkish administrators."

The Times reported that Prof. Nikhat Erim, Turkish representative in talks on Cyprus, had left today for Geneva for further discussions.

President of Italy Reported in Coma

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni lapsed into a coma today. His doctors said his condition had worsened rapidly.

The president, 73, was stricken with a cerebral stroke Aug. 7. For several days his condition remained grave, but during the past three days his physicians had reported considerable improvement and expressed hopes for his recovery.

Liebrals Fight Proposal To Hold Up Remapping Ordered by U. S. Courts

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders all but gave up hope today of winding up the congressional session next week as Democratic liberals whipped up a filibuster against a compromise proposal to delay court-ordered legislative reapportionment in the states.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said in advance of today's debate that if talk continues through next week, Congress will have to return after the Democratic convention, opening Aug. 24 in Atlantic City.

This may be necessary to get final action on the $3.3-billion foreign-aid money bill, to which the reapportionment proposal has been offered as a rider.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who got Mansfield to join him in offering the compromise amendment, said in a separate interview that if it takes until Labor Day to get action, he is ready to stay on the job.

"I'm going to get a vote on this, no matter how long it takes," Dirksen said.

He added he has been informed that opponents of the proposal plan to keep talking until the convention break.

The Dirksen-Mansfield amendment is designed to delay the effects of the recent Supreme Court ruling that both houses of state legislatures — many dominated by rural minorities — must be apportioned by population.

Possible Cloture Move Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., an opponent of the amendment, asked how long talk would go on, replied: "Until we win this battle."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said, however, that unless the opponents can muster about a dozen members to speak at length, he thinks there may be a move next week to end debate by invoking cloture. This would require approval of two-thirds of those voting.

Douglas told the Senate Friday the objective of the Dirksen-Mansfield proposal is to buy time so that a proposed constitutional amendment to nullify the Supreme Court's one-man one-vote decision could be pushed through "malapportioned legislatures."

The attempt to attach the rider to the foreign-aid bill was designed to "place it beyond the power of a presidential veto," he said.

2 Accidents Take 6 Lives

3 Die at Rosendale And 3 in Headon Crash Near Kenosha

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A car-train crash in Fond du Lac County and a two-car collision in Kenosha County have taken three lives each, raising the 1964 Wisconsin highway toll to 648, compared with 515 on this date last year.

Killed in the collision of a car and a North Western freight train at a Highway 26 crossing in Rosendale at 12:30 a.m. today were John R. Teetz, 18, of rural Rosendale, the driver, and two companions. They were Uvalde, Tex., and Scott Miller, 18, of Fond du Lac.

A two-car headon crash at 1:18 a.m. today on a Highway 158 overpass a mile west of Kenosha took the lives of Roger Anderson, 25, of Kenosha, alone in one car; and James J. Hazen, 45, and his wife, Mildred, 54, of rural Kenosha. The Hazens were parents of six children. The cars were found about 100 feet apart.

Frank Backhaus, 43, of Plymouth was injured fatally Friday when he was struck by a tractor on a Sheboygan County road about one and a half miles south of Plymouth.

Authorities said Backhaus was on the tractor driven by a 12-year-old youth when the two decided to switch places. Backhaus walked in front of the tractor and was struck by it.

Harlem Negro Heads Precinct

NEW YORK (AP) — Harlem is happy with its first Negro police commander.

He is Capt. Lloyd Sealy, 47, appointed Friday by Police Commissioner Michael Murphy to head the 28th Precinct, Harlem's largest.

The personable Sealy, who holds a law degree and is the first Negro to be sent by Murphy to the FBI school in Washington, said of his appointment: "It was my goal to be given command of this precinct."

For several days his condition remained grave, but during the past three days his physicians had reported considerable improvement and expressed hopes for his recovery.

He was in the thick of it during the rioting in Harlem several weeks ago.

Tear-A-Picture Game Fun For Group of Your Friends

BY CAPPY DICK
This is actually a jigsaw puzzle game to play when all your friends are assembled at the about one and a half inches square.

Advance preparations require you to collect a number of pictures. When the tearing has been completed, each player passes his pile of pieces to the player at his right. At another signal each contestant starts to put the pieces together to form the picture as it was before being torn. The player who is first to reconstruct a complete picture is the winner and deserves some kind of prize.

Lesson in English

Words Often Misused: Do not say, 'Many of the natives died from the fever.' Say, 'died OF the fever.'
Often Mispronounced: Pravda Soviet publication. Pronounce pravda, accent on first syllable.
Often Misspelled: Flery (inflamed not fiery).
Word Study: Use a word three times and it is yours. Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: COERCIVE. Clip them from the newspaper serving or intended to restrain or old magazines. Give each player a picture. At leaders resort to coercive means a signal, each tears his picture uses.

Browning Appears in Second Performance

Pianist Joins Orchestra in Performance Of Prokofiev Concerto, Bach Creations

BY JACK RUDOLPH
Post-Crescent News Service
FISH CREEK—With the hall still echoing from his pulse-stirring performance of the great Beethoven "Emperor" concerto Wednesday night, John Browning takes the stage of Gibraltar High School again Sunday afternoon to climax the middle week-end of the 12th Annual Peninsula Music Festival.

Lieutenant Is Purest Soap Opera Tonight

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — The Lieutenant is purest soap opera — so pure that it floats off in virtuous bubbles. The problem for Gary Lockwood is the bored, restless wife (Ina Balin) of another young officer. Their relationship is innocent, but you know how it is with gossip around a Marine base. This one is for the ladies. (Repeat)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11)—Hootenanny heads for William and Mary College. Va., and a round of music from The Brothers Four, Bob Gibson, Trini Lopez, Marilyn Child, the Gateway Trio, and laughs from Jackie Vernon. (Repeat)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 2) — The nonsense on The Lucy-Desi Comedy Hour has our heroine it is, the "Little C Major" is on a uranium hunt, along with regulars Desi Arnaz, William Frawley and Vivian Vance, and guest Fred MacMurray who seems just a bit out of place in a script which has him afraid to explain heavy gambling losses to his wife, June Haver. (Repeat)

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Defenders' excursion into a philosophic area is marred by a disjointed production. Leo Genn is excellent as a world-renowned scientist who strangles his wife. Much of the public feels that, guilty or not, he should not be treated as an ordinary criminal because he may find the cure to leukemia some day. (Repeat)

8-10:30 (Channel 4-5) — Saturday Night at the Movies presents "The Journey," a 1959 picture that buried its innate suspensefulness under too much pretentious talk. Deborah Kerr, Yul Brynner, Jason Robards Jr., Robert Morley and E. G. Marshall star in this adventure, set in post-World War II Hungary. (Color - Repeat)

8:30-9:30 (Channel 11) — If there is anybody around who likes to hear George Burns sing, watch Hollywood Palace. (If you don't, don't.) He is host this week and sneaks in to sing with tenor Sergio Franchi and The Lennon Sisters, as well as by himself.

KRA Schedules 2 Summer Events

KIMBERLY — The first of two summer events sponsored by the Kimberly Recreation Association will be held Sunday at the Combined Locks pavilion when the annual family picnic is planned. Tickets for the dinner, which will be served from 5:30 to 7 p.m., are on sale at various business places in the community as well as the clubhouse.

The annual KRA golf jamboree has been set for Aug. 22 at the Fox Valley Golf Club. The affair will include golf, dinner, refreshments and awards. Tickets for the affair are available from Cliff Sanderfoot, Wayne Kalsdonk and Ray Schwanke.

'Little White House' Tour Best Television Program This Week

Most interesting program of the past week was the CBS Wednesday night visit with Mrs. Lyndon Baines Johnson at the "little white house" in Texas, the LBJ Ranch. Mrs. Johnson proved a warm, gracious and interesting hostess, moving informally through the downstairs rooms and pointing out items of special interest. Walter Cronkite handled the half-hour in the effective old "person-to-person" style. Mrs. Johnson will give ABC something like equal time with a Washington interview with Howard K. Smith in the White House Oval Room on Aug. 22.

Village Seeks Women For Crossing Guards

LITTLE CHUTE — Applications are being accepted by the village clerk for the position of school crossing guards for the coming year. Women between 21 and 50 years of age are eligible to apply and candidates will be screened by a village board committee. Applications must be filed by Aug. 21.

son and the Festival orchestra in Serge Prokofiev's Piano Concerto No. 3.
Program Change
The performance of the Prokofiev concerto is a change from the earlier announcement of the Samuel Barber Concerto. The change was necessary because the work's orchestration calls for a 106-piece ensemble. The Festival orchestra will dip into the mid-18th and early 19th centuries for the rest of the program. Also to be heard are Johann Christian Bach's Sinfonia Concertante in E-Flat Major and the "Little C Major" symphony No. 6 by Franz Schubert. The sinfonia concertante is a hybrid Italian form. It enjoyed great popularity in England.

Multiple Soloists
The E-Flat Major sinfonia was, presumably written in 1770. The multiple soloists consist of a pair of violins and an oboe, although they don't function at the same time. For Sunday's performance the violin soloists will be concertmaster Donald Weilerstein and Michael Semantitzky, with James Caldwell as featured oboist.

Schubert's "Little C Major" symphony No. 9, a remarkable and large scaled work, is youthful Schubert, completed in 1817 when he had just turned 20.

Robert Schumann discovered the score in an untidy bundle of manuscripts in the possession of Franz' brother Ferdinand in 1839. Despite his enthusiasm for the work it wasn't performed again for several years. Brilliant, powerful and stirring as it is, the "Little C Major" is still one of Schubert's most neglected creations.

The Vera Wardner Dougan award will be presented to Browning Sunday during the annual "Official Days" pilgrimage to the festival by Mrs. Dougan.

'Kiddie Karnival' Set at Darboy, Kimberly Parks

KIMBERLY — Farewell day activities will be held Monday at all village parks with the closing event of the season, a kiddie carnival to be staged Tuesday afternoon at the Main Park for Kimberly and Combined Locks youngsters while a separate carnival will be presented in Darboy for children of that area.

Various stands and booths will be erected where youngsters can participate in games of skill or purchase refreshments. Older children, under the direction of play leaders, are currently making posters for the affairs. Awards will be presented to youngsters who have accumulated most points in competitive activities held during the summer recreation season.

24 Dogs Enrolled in Training Course Of Winnegamie Group

There are 23 dogs enrolled in the summer session of obedience training classes conducted by the Winnegamie Dog Club at Valley Fair Shopping Center. Graduation tests are scheduled for Aug. 31 with awards for the three best "students" as well as for the most improved dog. To graduate a dog must acquire 130 out of 155 points. According to the instructors, which include Loyal Vogel, Wilis Johnson and Mrs. Elton Check, the classes are basically for training dog handlers how to teach their animals desired responses.

Several dogs trained by Winnegamie members have competed in American Kennel Club licensed obedience trials and have completed requirements for titled degrees of accomplishment.

Children Blamed for Causing Freedom Fire

FREEDOM — Children playing with matches have been blamed for starting a fire which destroyed a shed and its contents at the Harlin Spiegel home, route 4, Appleton. Freedom Fire Chief Ed Vandenberg said.

Two of the Special children were playing with matches when the shed when it caught fire about 3:15 p.m. Tuesday. Lost in the fire were garden and lawn equipment and storm windows.

Damage to the shed was estimated at $500. No estimate of damage to the equipment was given.

Little Shooters 4-H Hears Reports on Fair

LITTLE CHUTE — Members of the Little Shooters 4-H Club reported on winning efforts at the County fair and made plans village clerk for the position of school crossing guards for the coming year.

Persons attending summer camps reported on activities and a report was given on potential membership for the coming committee. Applications must be filed by Aug. 21.

Kaukauna Sets In-Service Plan For Teachers

Elementary Project Will be Aug. 26, Supervisor Says

KAUKAUNA — Elementary school teachers from Nicolet and Park schools as well as Harrison School will begin in-service growth programs on Aug. 26, according to Clifford Hodgins, elementary supervisor. Teachers are to receive X-rays Wednesday morning after which they will assemble for a luncheon at the high school cafeteria. Superintendent of Schools Julian Biehler, will welcome the group.

Following the luncheon, teachers will assemble at Park School for science program study organization, English composition, oral and written, testing program and continuation of the study of modern mathematics.

Thursday morning teachers will join with those of Kimberly, Neenah and Menasha for a special program at the Menasha School. Thursday afternoon will find teachers back at Park School for an introduction to the science program and to view films.

Friday will be devoted to films and discussion on the modern math program, discussion on teachers' handbooks, forms and records used and general school policies as teachers prepare for the opening day of classes. Students will report for classes on Aug. 31. Students not yet enrolled will be accepted on opening day.

Parents desiring bus transportation for children are to make arrangements with Elwood Kobussen, operator of the school bus lines.

Warren Knowles, the endorsed Republican candidate for governor, said Friday he was optimistic about his chances while Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds said he saw indications of trouble for his re-election bid. At the same time, Democratic leaders exploded over the report of a memo by State GOP Chairman Talbot Peterson calling Reynolds "a dope" and "chief no chin." Peterson was out of the state and could not be reached for comment.

Speaking at Green Bay Knowles said he based his optimism on "a restlessness" among the voters about Reynolds.

"They don't like his squabbling with the Legislature, the way he runs to court so often, his partisan political appointments and activities, or the way he promises things as a candidate that he can't deliver as a governor."

Reynolds spoke at a Madison dinner of the Dane County Friends of Reynolds, and said the Democratic party "by every yardstick available to use, is in trouble in Wisconsin." He said this applied not only to the contest for governor, but to "those of us who are committed to maintaining progressive, rational government in our state."

He said he was weakest in Dane County...and I am not running as well in Milwaukee as I should be, with one major exception." He said that was on the South Side of Milwaukee.

Personal Attack
Reynolds said the reasons were "vicious personal attack by the opposition...a concerted campaign to blame me for the selective sales tax...and because I have taken some tough stands on the issues and have forced the Legislature to adopt programs that they did not want." He said he would "immediately begin a television campaign to set the record straight."

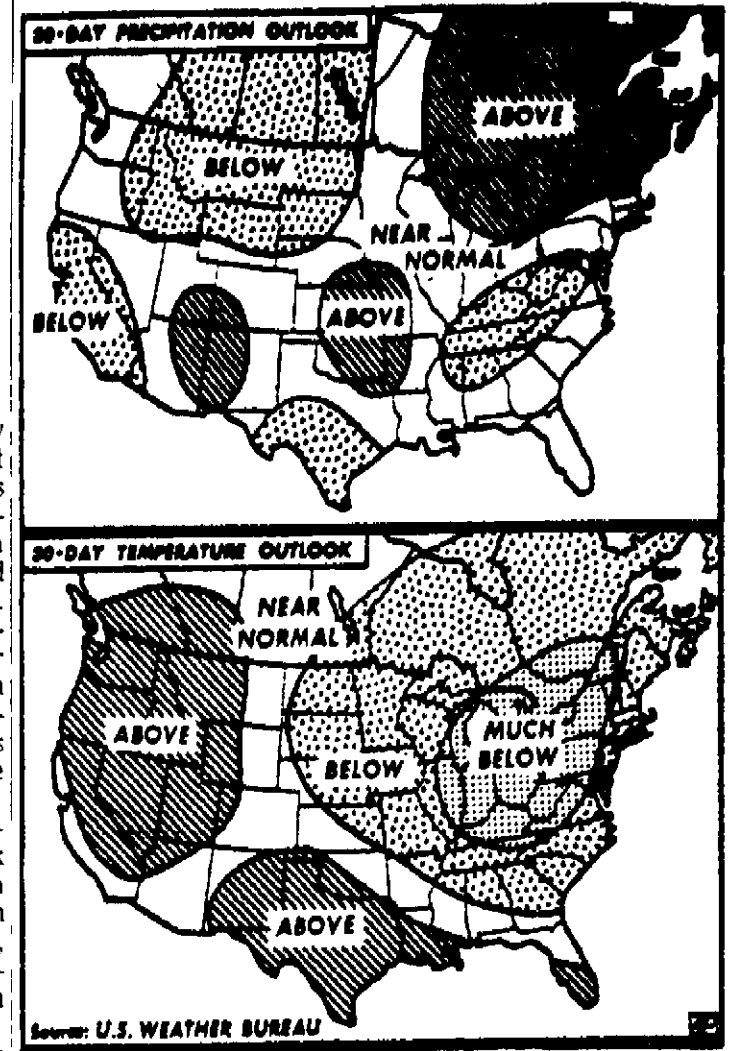

A copy of what was described as the Peterson memo was printed by a Madison newspaper which said it was meant only for party workers. The memo also called President Johnson and Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., "phonies."

'Name Calling'
The Democratic lieutenant governor candidate, Patrick Lucey, said in a speech at Alma Friday that the Republicans were resorting to "cheap name calling." Lucey said it appeared the step was taken because Peterson and his cohorts have decided to avoid discussing the issues at all costs.

Louis Hanson, the state Democratic chairman, said the reference to Reynolds as "chief no chin" showed a lack of respect for the office of governor.

I find it extremely distasteful to refer to a man's physical characteristics, especially the

Fox Valley Youths Win At State Fair

Junior fair livestock judging highlighted the opening day of the Wisconsin State Fair at West Allis yesterday, with two Fox Valley boys coming through with top blue ribbons on their stock.

In the junior fair beef show, Terry London, Chilton, stood first with a junior heifer calf in the Shorthorn division.

Kathy Griswold, 17, Livingston, showed the grand champion steer, a Hereford, at the fair for the second year in a row.

Opening day dairy judging saw Tom Ferg of Manawa show the top blue ribbon Brown Swiss junior heifer calf.

Outagamie County placed 10th in Guernsey county herds. Jefferson County placed first in the class showing all blue ribbon animals.

Dairy judging continues today, with Holstein entries being paraded before the judge.

Waste Ground Cleared Catholic Priest Works With Youth of Congo

BY JOHN LATZ ELISABETHVILLE, Congo (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest is waging a battle to save the youth of Elisabethville from delinquency.

Father Gerard Van Asperdt, 38, a former officer in the Dutch air force, also holds an architectural degree. He thought it worth an effort to try to save the thousands of youths who sleep in gutters and spend their waking hours in bars.

He started with only the blessing of the local father superior of the Salesian Order. He cleared some waste ground three miles out of town to build the home of his dreams — a City of Youth.

The local Lions Club donated $2,240 — and Father Van Asperdt has built a modest house for his own living quarters, a kitchen and a chapel.

The next phase of the project will cost $448,000 and Van Asperdt hopes to have it finished within two years. It will provide accommodation for 600 boarders and 900 day boys. Youths of from 15 to 25 are acceptable but, he added: "We shall take older boys if they are unable to find work."

Although he is a Catholic, Father Van Asperdt said "we shall help everybody who needs our help."

The project will comprise workshops, a bakery and a technical school. Products will be sold in town to raise funds.

Van Asperdt's only assistant is a young Italian, Abbe Mario Marchioli, 20, from Abruzzi, who is studying for his theological degree at a Catholic college here.

Early every morning, a number of youths report to work on the project. Their only pay is a bowl of corn at lunchtime and a free ticket to the Sunday soccer match.

The priest has opened playing fields and is proud of his two pairs of boxing gloves. In his air force days he was a boxer and judo champion. This came in handy recently when bandits tried to steal his truck and car from the isolated house. Armed with a baseball bat he chased them off.

On another occasion a young tough came to incite other boys to boycott the mission. Father Van Asperdt challenged him to a few rounds. After three punches, the would-be delinquent put down his gloves and became one of the father's pupils.

Recruiting Ground Father Van Asperdt dons his cassock — "I must look respectable" — to show visitors around his "recruiting ground."

These include flash-storm ditches, in which some of his boys had slept; a brothel, and finally an African bar, renowned for its rowdiness. "This is where my clients come from," he says laughingly.

The handsome priest with the graying hair speaks several languages. Coming from a Dutch family of builders, his first choice in life was architecture. He studied for two years under a Dutch architect, then decided to study for the priesthood.

"I learned English when I was a lieutenant in the Dutch air force attached to the RAF from 1944 to 1946," he said. At present, he finds Swahili more useful.

Freedom Congregation To Hear Former Pastor OF MORAVIAN CHURCH

FREEDOM — The Rev. A. A. Bautz, a former pastor at Freedom Moravian Church from 1939-44 will be the guest preacher at the 10 a.m. service Sunday. He is now in semi-retirement at Watertown. His sermon will be the "Glory of the Christian Religion."

Beginning Sunday through Saturday, five campers and adult staff members from the congregation will be attending the Junior High Youth Camp at Camp Winmore near Hatley. Staff members are Judy Brockman, girls counselor; Bernice Groat, cook; and Rev. Erwin E. Boettcher, pastor, as dean of camp and vespers leader.

Campers attending will be Steve Beulow, Ricky Greul, Randy Skibbe, Randy and Dean Wendt.

The theme of this year's camp is "To Love As We Are Loved." The program will include Bible study and nature hikes.

Lutherans to Continue Synodical Conference

Missouri, Slovak Synods Invite Wisconsin, Norwegian Groups to Rejoin Federation

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Representatives of two Lutheran bodies voted last week to continue the Lutheran Synodical Conference and to share responsibility for the Conference's missions in Nigeria and Ghana.

They are the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, 2,683,875 members, and the Synod of Evangelical Lutheran Churches (Slovak Synod), 20,464 members.

Last year two members of the Conference, an inter-synod federation founded in 1872, withdrew. The Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod and the Norwegian Lutheran Synod.

An invitation was extended by the 110 delegates at the Conference convention to have the former members "rejoin the common task of sound confessional Lutheranism through the agency of the Lutheran Synodical Conference."

Closer Contact Urged The Conference urged closer contact with sister church bodies overseas. Dr. John Daniel, Bethlehem, Pa., president of the Conference, listed five areas of possible cooperation.

They include united theological study and consultation, common worship and liturgical studies, exchange of theological professors, discussion of mission efforts, and a unified approach to ecumenical conversations.

Both members of the Conference are currently engaged in the Inter Lutheran Consultation, which was initiated with member bodies of the National Lutheran Council to draw up outlines for a cooperative agency in which Lutherans might participate in theological studies and mutual projects.

Supervised Missions During sessions of the convention the delegates honored Dr. Karl Kurth, St. Louis, who has retired after supervising the mission activities of the conference for 18 years.

Negro congregations in this country have now joined geographic districts of the Missouri Synod. There are 32,000 baptized members in 200 congregations in Nigeria.

Locally the "old" Synodical Conference is represented by churches of the Wisconsin and Missouri Synods.

Wisconsin Synod congregations are in Appleton, Kimberly, Freedom, Menasha, Kaukauna and Neenah.

Fox Cities Missouri Synod churches are in Appleton, Menasha, Kaukauna, Neenah, and Menasha.

Regents Okay $13 Million for UW Buildings

Elvehjem Art Center, Additional Building Planned

MADISON (AP)—A $13 million building complex to house the University of Wisconsin's history, art and music departments and the Elvehjem Art Center was approved Friday by the board of regents.

Also approved by the regents were final plans for a new building for the Wisconsin Center at Marinette.

The multi-million dollar complex will go up on the south part of the lower Madison campus. The building for the three departments will be six stories. The center was named in honor of the late Dr. Conrad A. Elvehjem, the university's 13 president. It will include a library, sculpture court, and teaching and research facilities for the department of art history.

The Marinette center building will cost an estimated $492,000, with construction of the two-story brick and stone structure expected to begin this fall and be completed within 12 months.

The building will house five classrooms, 12 offices, three laboratories, a library, fine arts room and dining facilities.

The regents also approved the preparation of final plans for an 18-story, $5.5 million language building. The structure will provide class and lecture rooms for the foreign language departments which have been increasing almost twice as fast as overall enrollment.

Tallest Building

The building will be the tallest in Madison.

Preliminary plans for a $7.3 million chemistry building on the Madison campus were approved by the regents. The 10-story building would be constructed atop a three-story base. Officials hope to break ground before next spring and complete the building by the end of 1967.

Gifts and grants totaling $6.4 million were accepted by the regents. Among the grants was $300,000 from the Carnegie Corp. of New York City to finance a faculty exchange with three southern universities.

Dixie Governors Plan Strategy

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Governors of five Southern states huddled behind closed doors here Friday in a surprise session to discuss civil rights and apparently map strategy for the Democratic National Convention.

"We believe that our meeting has been beneficial, and we may have additional meetings in the future," said Louisiana Gov. John J. McKeithen, host for the session and spokesman for himself, Mississippi Gov. Paul B. Johnson, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Florida's Gov. Farris Bryant, who left the session an hour earlier than the other chief executives, said he had to rush back to Tallahassee, his capital, because of state problems.

2 Planes Missing With 12 Aboard

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Two U.S. civilian aircraft with 12 persons aboard are reported missing on a 545-mile flight from Fort Chimo in Ungava Bay to Janis Lake, 125 miles north of Sept-Isles, Que.

The aircraft, each with six persons, left Fort Chimo Tuesday. Flight plans called for landings at Kamapiskau Lake and Lake Porree, both in the northern Quebec wilderness, the Royal Canadian Air Force said.

Names of those on board were not immediately known.

More Rebel Attacks Indicated in Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — President Francois Duvalier's government is braced for the possibility of further rebel attacks.

Roadblocks were manned on roads leading to the capital. And on one street corner the body of a dead rebel fighter was displayed in an effort to show the government's strength.

Duvalier set himself up as a lifetime president of Haiti last June.

The roadblocks were thrown up after rebels had ambushed Congressman Hugo Paul in the Orami Hills. Paul and his son were wounded, while a boy traveling with them was killed.

Allies Landed 20 Years Ago On the Riviera

SAINT-RAPHAEL, France (AP) — On a balmy day 20 years ago today, three battle-hardened American divisions and a Free French force landed on the Riviera to open a second front in the liberation of France.

The landings in Southern France have been overshadowed by the massive Allied landing at Normandy two months before. But for Gen. Charles de Gaulle, then commander of the Free French fighters and now France's president, this was the invasion in which the French "began participating in the common victory."

De Gaulle's troops were kept out of the Normandy invasion planning, but the Allies consulted his horse, which reared back ed fully with De Gaulle's exile and repeatedly kicked him in regime in Algiers on the strike the head.

In speeches along the way he recalled this was the first real effort of the French in driving the Nazis from their French homeland, and he praised the United States and Britain.

He reviewed detachments of U.S. and British troops and chatted in English with their officers.

De Gaulle did not attend ceremonies marking the Normandy landings in June. He said he was "too busy" in Paris.

Pope Points to Threat of War

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI, celebrating Mass in the church here, warned mankind today that "we are as always at the beginning of some conflagration which could yet burn up our present world."

The pontiff said one "need only look at the newspapers to see what hazards to peace there still are for humanity."

"We must be vigilant, in prayer, in strength, in hope," the Pope said.

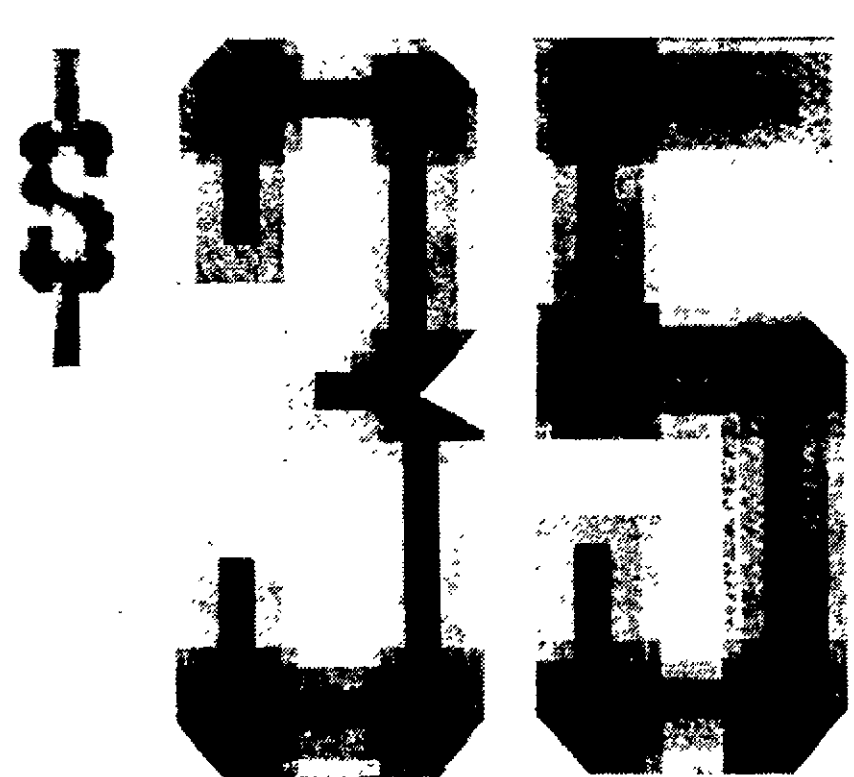

The pontiff also referred to the grave worsening in the condition of Italian President Antonio Segni, who sank into a coma after being stricken with a cerebral stroke.

The Pope said he had prayed to the Madonna "to aid Segni and with him all the Italian people."

Lamar McHan, Former Packer, Retires From NFL

SAN FRANCISCO AP — Quarterback Lamar McHan, who spent part of his National Football League career with the Green Bay Packers, has retired, the San Francisco 49ers said Friday.

The 31-year-old signal caller joined the 49ers for the fourth game last season after San Francisco starter John Brodie broke an arm.

McHan was the first draft choice of the Chicago Cardinals, now in St. Louis in 1954. He joined the Packers in 1959 and went to Baltimore in 1961 before joining the 49ers.

Miss Carol Sorenson Practices for National Women's Links Tourney

HUTCHINSON Kan. AP — Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., was among entrants getting in practice rounds Friday for the National Women's Amateur Golf Tournament opening pace for the sixth place Twins.

Longest String

Nearly 60 of the 92 entrants had checked in, and most of them went directly to the Prairie Dunes Country Club course. There was no discussion of the results.

"Nobody would say what they shot," said assistant pro Tom Lewis.

The tournament opens Monday with 36 holes of qualifying play and ends next Saturday.

Tim Sommer, Jim Jankow Slated to Hurl Doubleheader Sunday; Squad Idle Tonight

BY TERRY GALVIN Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Henry King's masterful relief performance paved the way as the Fox Cities Foxes authored a 7-4 Midwest League victory over the Clinton C-Sox at Goodland Field Friday night.

The victory, the fourth straight and 20th in the last 23 games, enabled the Foxes to maintain a 3-game edge over second place Quad Cities in the ML's second round pennant chase.

The Foxes enjoy a day of rest today. A doubleheader is on tap against the C-Sox Sunday. The first game is slated for 2 p.m. with the nightcap to commence at 8.

Expected to Pitch

Tim Sommer, 13-1 on the season, and Jim Jankow are expected to hurl for the Foxes. King, out of action for the past two weeks with a sore arm, returned to hill in the fourth inning in relief of starter Steve Caria. The hard-throwing southpaw yielded just one hit the rest of the way.

King hurled 5 1-3 innings, his longest stint since May when he started and won a 7-inning contest. King fanned three and passed three while on the mound. He was never in trouble after retiring the last man in the fourth.

Record Now 8-6

The Foxes bullpen ace (the right-handed version is Fred Beene) upped his season log to 8-6 with the win. King's ERA dropped from a glittering 2.25 to 2.09 for the season.

Clinton's Angel Bravo, the ML counterpart of base-stealing Maury Wills of the Dodgers, opened the game with a walk off Caria. Bravo stole second and advanced to third on Pat Rigby's single. Don Welsh's infield grounder scored Bravo and the C-Sox had a 1-0 lead.

The Foxes struck with 'vigor' in the second for four runs. Fred Rico opened the frame with a single, the only hit of the inning. Steve Huntz survived on an error. Stan Walters walked to jam the sacks and Ray Wolkowski accepted a free pass, scoring Rico.

Slow Roller

Caria topped a slow roller to C-Sox third sacker Stan Juciuk. Jaciuk's throw to the plate was wild and Huntz and Walters scored. Wolkowski crossed the plate on Bob Lewandowski's sacrifice fly to left.

Clinton managed to knot the count in the fourth with three runs. Rigby walked and Welsh advanced him to third with a single to center. Rich Severson's sacrifice fly scored Rigby. Howie Wood drew a walk and reserve catcher Duane Josephson lined a triple to the right field corner, chasing Caria to showers and scoring two runs.

The Foxes, with King checking the C-Sox on the mound, failed to find the range at the plate, but so did Clinton hurlers Jim Morris (the loser) and Willie Hooker.

Green Bay '11' Bids for Initial Win of Season

Duels Giants in Bishop's Charities Game Tonight

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Green Bay Packers should show tonight what differences can be made in a Vince Lombardi coached team that has lost one National Football League exhibition and had a week of training since.

The Packers will make their first home appearance tonight, entertaining the New York Giants in the fourth annual Bishop's Charities game. The Packers won the first three games in the series, and including these exhibitions have beaten the Giants six times in a row.

A sellout crowd of 42,327 is assured. The game will be broadcast.

String of 24

The 1964 Packers, hailed by Lombardi as the best assembly he's had since coming to Green Bay in 1959, got off on the wrong foot in the exhibition campaign. Their string of 24 pre-season victories against NFL opponents was snapped last Saturday when the St. Louis Cardinals took a 20-7 victory in New Orleans.

The game tonight could be the final test for some of the rookies still on the 49-man Packers roster, and it could help decide the future of some veterans.

The Giants also lost their first exhibition, bowing 21-7 to the Minnesota Vikings a week ago. Quarterback Y. A. Tittle played only one quarter, then turned the game over to rookie Henry Schille of Wichita. The Giants ended up with only two yards passing.

Tittle is expected to again see only limited service tonight.

West Allis Falls In VFW Teener Baseball Title Tilt

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Previously unbeaten West Allis, Wis., bowed twice Friday to Gastonia, N.C., which won its second consecutive VFW Teener Baseball championship.

Once-beaten Gastonia won the championship with a 5-4 victory over West Allis in an afternoon game after handing the Wisconsin team its first defeat 8-0 in a morning meeting in the double elimination tournament.

In the morning, Gastonia belted out West Allis starter Mark Relich who had hurled a perfect game earlier in the tournament. But despite the loss, the 15-year-old Relich was named the meet's most valuable player on the basis of his perfect game victory and a grand slam home run in his team's second tournament victory.

Giants' Bolin Stops Braves on 1 Hit, 3-0

Milwaukee Pitchers Give Up Three Hits—All Home Runs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The game was the first pre-sent on pay television in San Francisco with about 2,000 families eligible to watch for $1.50 a family. The game drew a stadium crowd of 20,654.

This afternoon, Hank Fischer, 5 and 8, faced Bobby Hendley, 7 and 9.

Each was a home run—by Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays.

But even with the victory the second-place Giants slipped to four games off the pace when league-leading Philadelphia won two from the New York Mets. The sixth-place Braves dropped 11 games back.

No-Hitter in Works

Bolin, who evened his record at 4 and 4, had a no-hitter in the works going into the fifth when former Giant Ed Bailey opened the inning with a line single to left. It was Bolin's first victory since July 11.

Even though they got only the one hit, the Braves left seven runners on base. Bolin walked six and Giant errors permitted two other Braves to get on base. Bolin also fanned six.

Lemaster took his eighth defeat against a dozen victories in going a full five innings before he was lifted for a pinch-hitter. He gave up McCovey's 17th homer in the first inning and Cepeda's 21st in the second.

Braves Sign Collegian From Oklahoma School

MILWAUKEE AP — The Milwaukee Braves signed a 20-year-old collegian Friday two years after he spurned professional baseball offers to continue his schooling.

The Braves said that outfielder Carl Morton of Tulsa, Okla., who will be a junior at the University of Oklahoma this fall, had signed a contract with the Milwaukee club's Texas League farm at Austin for 1965.

Dean Chance Hurls 8th Straight Win

Yankees 5-4 The White Sox hit-homer and Blasingame poked a tied Boston 11-1 and Kansas City outscored Detroit 5-4.

Chance, 13-5, held the Senators hitless until the fifth, when Don Zimmerman's smash off first baseman Vic Power went for a hit. The Washington crowd forced the decision but Don Rigsby's homer rescued the official score with a clean single in the sixth.

16th Home Run

Wally Smith drove in three runs for the Angels and Joe Adcock hit his 16th home run. The Senators matched their longest winning streak of the season — four games — in the opener behind the strong relief pitching of Jim Hannan. Hannan allowed only one run and struck out seven in 6 1-3 innings. Ed Brinkman hit a two-run

Menasha '9' Cops, 2-0, in LL Tourney

Faces Bartlesville, Okla., Today For Title, Berth in Regionals

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

JEFFERSON, Ia. — Menasha blended a pair of single-run innings, a shutout hurling effort by Ron Haack and a flawless defense into a 2-0 win over Windsor of Des Moines in the semi-finals of the Division 1 Little League tournament here Friday.

The Menashans will meet Bartlesville, Okla., 3-0 winner over Rapid City, S.D., for the championship at 5:30 p.m. today. The winner will gain a berth in the national regional at Indianapolis next Friday and Saturday.

Haack, in hurling his fourth straight tournament victory to give his mother an appropriate birthday present, stopped the Iowaans on five hits, one more than the Menasha boys collected off John Tidrick. He struck out three, walked one and hit a batter.

Menasha tallied a run in the second on singles by John Walbrun and Bill Berthenoli, a wild pitch and an infield error.

They made the 1-run lead hold up until the fifth when they added the second. Ricky Knudsen walked and was forced at second by Gary Ruesch. Ruesch went to second on a wild pitch and scored on Marcus Kiel's single. An error and a walk followed, but all three runners were stranded.

Des Moines, which won the divisional title the last two years and was favored to repeat, threatened in four of its six times at bat, but each time Haack worked his way out of trouble.

The losers came closest to scoring in the fifth, when, with one out, a walk, a hit and a passed ball put runners on second and third, but Ruesch grabbed a ground ball at third and threw to the plate to cut off the potential tying run. A pop fly ended the inning.

Two hits and a wild pitch put runners on second and third with one out in the fourth, but Haack struck out his pitching foe and center fielder Cal Walters grabbed a fly ball to end the threat.

Menasha played perfect defensive ball while Des Moines committed one error. The winners received one walk and had seven strike outs chalked up against them.

Oklahoma, which entered the tournament by winning scores of 14-0 and 9-0, used two homers to beat South Dakota in the first game. Kim Ruelle is expected to pitch for Menasha today. He has a 2-0 record.

Jones Upset By Daniels on Split Decision

3-1 Underdog Blasts Hopes of No. 1 Contender

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Daniels, a 24-hour substitute blasted the title hopes of Doug Jones by scoring a stunning upset 10-round split decision over the No. 1 heavyweight contender at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Referee Zach Caltyn scored the decision for the 3-1 underdog by a 5-3-2 vote on rounds. Judge Johnny Dfan had it 5-4-1 for Daniels. Judge Al Berl had it 6-4 for Jones.

The Associated Press card had Jones in front 6-4.

Daniels, a former contender who no longer is ranked, agreed to the fight on Thursday when Tony Alonti was forced to withdraw because of bone chips of the right elbow.

Jones, winner of three straight since he lost a controversial 10-round decision to heavyweight king Cassius Clay two years ago, forced the fight all the way but could not score consistently against the backpedalling Daniels.

There were no knockdowns, although Daniels, a 6-foot beanpole with long arms, shook Jones with a long right to the jaw in the third round.

It was the same kind of a right that Daniels used to twice shake up Clay with in a fight two years ago. Clay won that bout on a seventh round technical knockout.

A ringside poll showed an 8-5 edge for Jones with one writer calling it even.

Jones, 6-foot-2 and with a reach far shorter than that of Daniels, stalked Daniels all the way.

Every now and then Daniels would stop retreating and then would lash out with long lefts and rights that drew cheers from the crowd of about 4,000 for the television fight. Many of them were blocked.

Four Appleton Gridders May Start for Chiefs

MANITOWOC — Four Appleton residents are seeking to retain starting positions with the Manitowoc County Chiefs as they prepare for the Central States Football league season.

One of the quartet, defensive tackle Ed Felauer, was a starter two years ago. He was discharged from the Army recently.

Offensive tackle Larry Feistel, defensive tackle Lee Borsche and quarterback Dick Odegard are the other Appleton players with strong chances of starting again.

Odegard, hampered last year by traveling from Chicago to again living in Appleton, and with more opportunity to practice, is expected to give Paul Schneider a stiff battle for the No. 1 quarterback spot.

The Chiefs open CSL play Sept. 5 in Madison.

Broncos Trade McFadin, Draft Choice for Lee

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Broncos announced early Friday they have traded veteran defensive tackle Bud McFadin and their No. 1 draft choice for 1965 to the Houston Oilers for quarterback Jackie Lee.

Lee will join the Broncos for two years on a lend-lease basis and then return to Houston. It is planned.

He is expected to be on hand for tonight's American Football League exhibition game with the Oakland Raiders in Denver.

Not all details of the plan have been completed, but Denver is expected to get another player — so far unnamed — from Houston.

Two of the Broncos' three signal callers John McCormick and Mickey Slaughter — are in less than top physical shape.

McFadin has been with Denver since the AFL started play in 1960. He has been an All-AFL tackle three times. He played at the University of Texas and with the Los Angeles Rams, later coming out of retirement to join the Broncos.

Me Too?

The unity meeting of leading Republicans at Hershey, Pennsylvania brought about the firm endorsement of the Goldwater-Miller ticket by former President Eisenhower. It also resulted in Senator Goldwater's "reaffirming" his policies, as he stated it. But these policies may surprise some of his more hysterical opponents as well as some of his most ardent advocates. Senator Goldwater said he would seek the advice of Eisenhower and Nixon before making cabinet appointments and that his foreign policy would be much the same as that of the Eisenhower Administration.

This meeting and merging of opinions could be an effort of the Goldwater forces to woo the more liberal wing of the party and heal the breach made wider at San Francisco. But we choose to feel that Senator Goldwater is a more responsible man than that. Instead the meeting seems to confirm something we have long believed; that there is no massive difference of opinion among responsible, thinking Americans in our foreign policy aims and most of our domestic policy aims and that even the various methods suggested for achieving those aims are not very far apart.

Senator Goldwater not only endorsed the Eisenhower foreign policy; he promised full implementation of the civil rights law, spoke in support of the United Nations and the Social Security Act and disavowed the support of "extremists of the left or the right." He conceded that perhaps somehow his policies "never came through clearly" in previous statements.

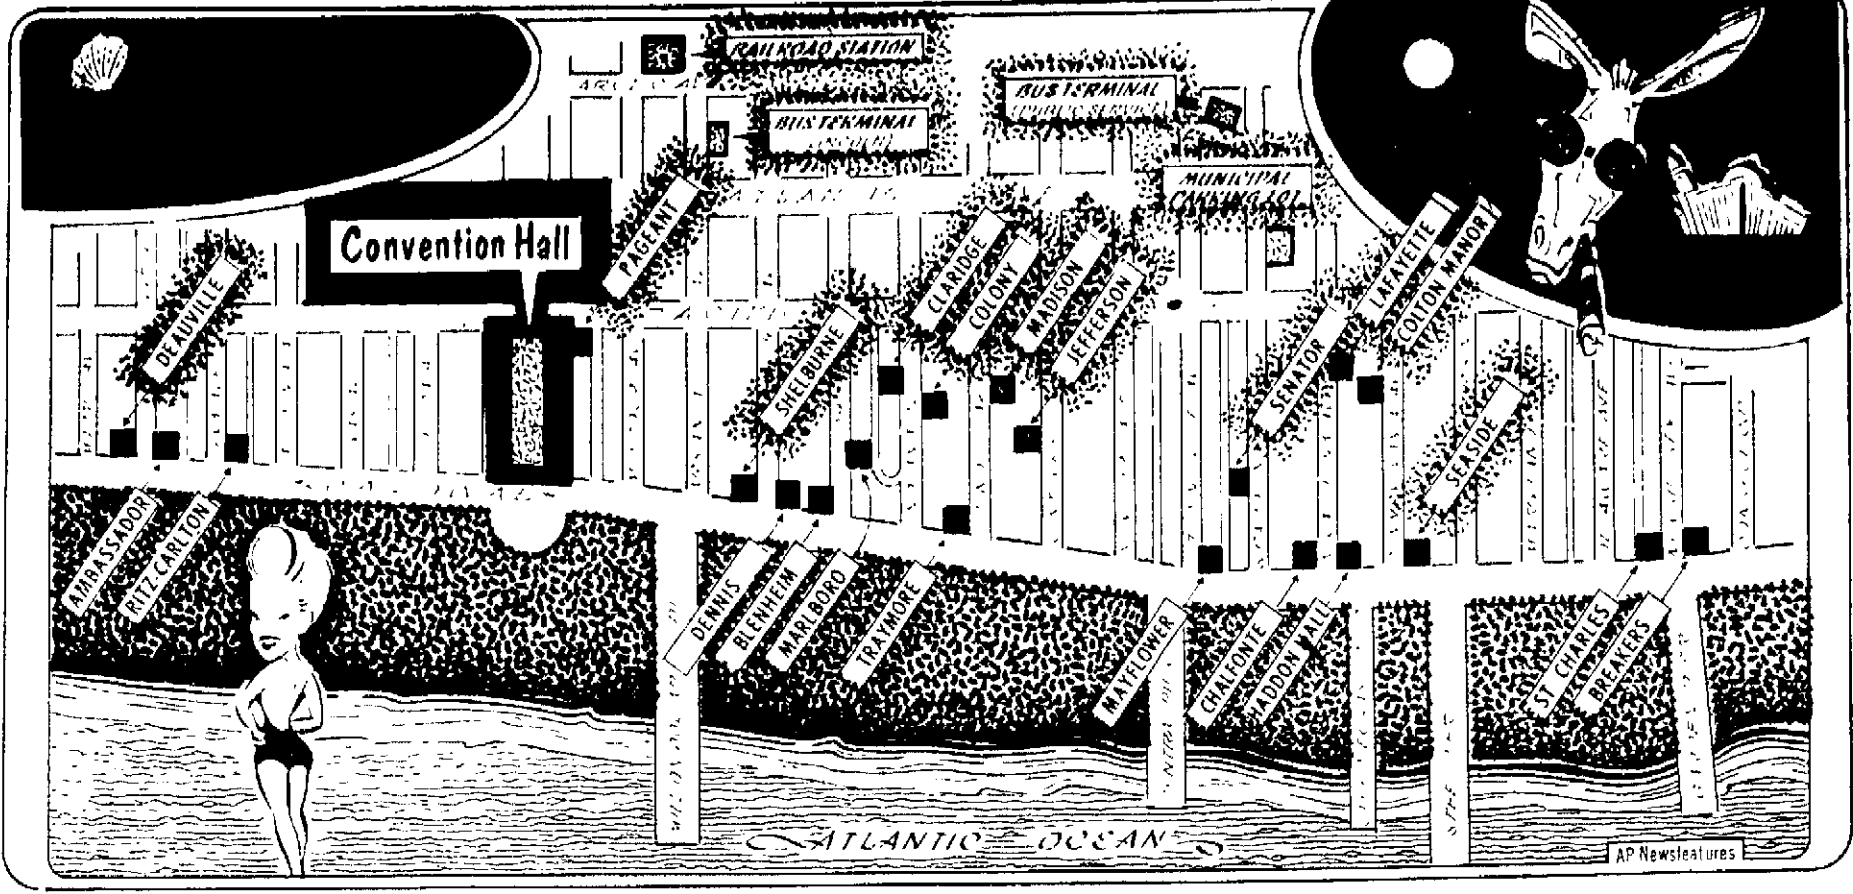

There will be charges now of "me-too-ism" but this is no more accurate than it was for John Kennedy's policies following those of Eisenhower. For the truth seems to be that the "mainstream of American political thought" spoken of so often during the primaries, involves all the major candidates—and no candidate can win unless he does partake of those beliefs.

There are differences between the parties, of course, but the differences are more concerned with method than with aim. The Democratic appeal for "accommodation" with the Russians has been criticized by the Republicans who would rather lean heavily upon the word "victory." But both sides, except for the extremists of left or right, would agree that the aim of the United States is to avoid a war while at the same time not only not losing more to communism—or other tyrannies—but gradually widening the opportunities of freedom and justice for all. And while there are certainly wide grounds for criticism of the vast bureaucracy in Washington, which benefit would any major politician suggest be eradicated?

The situation is reminiscent of a speech some months ago at St. Norbert College by Frank Meyer, one of the editors of National Review, a very conservative but responsible publication. Meyer's criticism of some of the acts and policies of the then Kennedy Administration were logical and apt. But they didn't go far enough for some members of the audience who asked about the Communist control of the State Department. Meyer's advice to forget such nonsense was also apt but obviously disappointing to some of the audience.

Senator Goldwater's unity with the so-called Eisenhower Republicans may take away some of the extreme opponents' charges as well as some ultra-conservative backing. There may well be speculation that his own ideas may not be too clearly fixed in his own mind since there are discrepancies with some earlier, off the cuff statements. Once again the American voters must take a solid look at their philosophies of government. And it may be that this is exactly what Senator Goldwater has done.

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Business meetings, cocktail parties and banquet speakers are an integral part of Atlantic City, which also boasts it is the home of the Boardwalk, salt water taffy, jitney buses and the Miss America Pageant.

Conventions are a $60 million a year business here, but this year for the first time it will be host to a national political party convention. The Democrats will choose their presidential vice presidential ticket in the great Convention Hall, right on the beach, in the week beginning Aug. 23.

The resort boasts that it has more than 30,000 hotel and motel rooms, many of them on the oceanfront. It also claims that 12,800 rooms are within walking distance of Convention Hall.

In addition to the hotel dining rooms, there are 400 restaurants, offering dishes ranging from pizza and steaks to steamed clams, corned beef and charcoal broiled hot dogs.

A good portion of the 500 conventions held here annually take place in Convention Hall, which has staged such events as track meets, prize fights, dog racing, ice hockey, horse shows, horse racing, bowling, polo, baseball, football and jousting.

The longest home run ever hit by Babe Ruth or any other baseball player would not go from one end of the hall to the other.

Built in 1929 at a cost of $15 million, the hall covers seven acres and can seat 35,000 persons in the main auditorium alone. The entire population of Atlantic City—60,000 — can be seated in the building with room to spare.

There are no columns in the main hall, the roof being supported by the largest trusses in the world. In fact, they are so large that a sliding point is built around the room to allow a three-inch space for expansion and contraction with changes in temperatures.

Geographically, Atlantic City is located on Absecon Island, once a collection of sand dunes about 8 miles long and slightly more than a mile across at its widest point, about 6 miles off the New Jersey mainland. Also on the island are the residential communities of Ventnor, Margate and Longport.

Atlantic City now entertains the greatest number of visitors in its history. Estimates based on hotel and traffic counts indicate the figure is about 16 million annually.

COOLING OCEAN BREEZES

The city has cooling ocean breezes, 72 degree temperatures and white sandy beach. It is unique, among other things, for its world famous Boardwalk, a seven-mile long wooden promenade used by millions annually for strolling, sightseeing in rolling chairs and bicycling.

The Boardwalk, between the beach and the hotels, is the center of Atlantic City social and evening life.

Shops lining the promenade offer Paris gowns, rare antique furniture, expensive rugs, jewelry, thrifty gifts, hot dogs, soft drinks and cheap novelties.

Each year in September, the Boardwalk is also the scene of the first official event of the Miss America pageant, oldest of all bathing beauty contests. Candidates for the title ride down the famed boards in a glittering night parade to open pageant week.

A week after the Democrats leave town, Miss America will be crowned almost on the very spot in Convention Hall where President Johnson accepts the Democratic nomination.

The Orders Came From Peiping

North Viet Nam's rejection of the invitation extended by the Security Council of the United Nations to present its side of the attack on United States ships and the subsequent retaliation by U. S. bombers is an interesting example of Communist confusion.

"The United Nations Security Council has no right" to hear such arguments, said the note from the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry. "Only the two co-chairmen (Britain and Russia) and the countries that took part in the 1954 Geneva conference have full competence to examine the extremely dangerous war acts committed by the United States Government against the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam. . . . The slender clearly shows that the United States seeks to shirk its responsibility and betray its design to use the United Nations to interfere in the Viet Nam situation and carry out its policy of aggression. The United States imperialists have more than once used the United Nations as a tool to carry out their aggressive policies."

This is an interesting commentary beyond showing that the North Vietnamese don't want their aggression against South Viet Nam discussed on an international level. They would rather appeal to the impotent International Control Commission of Indian, Polish and Canadian officials who can't possibly reach an agreement on anything.

But what the foreign minister missed or chose to ignore is that the United States only charged North Viet Nam with aggressive acts. It did not suggest that North Viet Nam be invited to present its case. The insistence upon the invitation came from the delegate of the Soviet Union and was seconded by the delegate from Czechoslovakia after both had obviously checked things out with Moscow.

The North Vietnamese did not check things out with Moscow. Do they think there is some nefarious sort of collusion going on between the United States and the Soviet Union?

The Election in Tuskegee

National attention was focused this week on municipal elections in Tuskegee, Alabama where for the first time registered Negro voters have a clear-cut majority in the city. This was the result of a successful Negro registration drive, aided by the federal courts.

The list of candidates reflected the change in voting power. Negro candidates challenged whites for all five council posts.

But the results were something of a surprise. The Macon County Democratic Club, the leading Negro political organization in town, supported only two of the Negro candidates and backed three whites. And that is the way the voting turned out on final tabulation.

Dr. C. C. Gomillion, a Tuskegee Institute professor who is chairman of MCDC, explained the group's attitude this way: "Our motto is take it by steps and don't crowd it. We've been outsiders and now we've got to learn the workings of government from the inside. If whites are going to stay in the community, the city government ought to be interracial. We also feel a carryover of white office holders would be more efficient as well as provide us the opportunity of learning which whites will cooperate with us."

There was also a more aggressive Negro political group which disagreed with this philosophy, and sought an all-Negro council. But the moderates prevailed.

Many other Dixie towns where Negroes are in the majority population-wise and where voter registration lists are beginning to reflect this fact were watching the results of the Tuskegee elections. It is fortunate the Negro political leaders in Tuskegee took a modern and intelligent stand and were able to convince their people to do likewise.

Taxpayers Association Objects to Editorial

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In the interest of complete and honest reporting, I must reply to your editorial headed "Closed Door Meeting" (APC, August 1), in which the opinion was expressed that "Officials of the Appleton Taxpayers Association 'leaped before they looked.'" It appears that your editorial writer did not bother to get all of the facts in the case before "leaping."

The emphasis in my letter, as you can see, was attached to the fact that the Mayor, as I was to ask for an expression from the Mayor as to what policy would be followed in the future. As background, I indicated that, on several occasions in the past, solutions as indicated had arisen. This was given to me in good faith by members of our Board of Directors who had previously had the experience and directed me to secure the expression of policy from the Mayor. At no time was there any thought to "level charges," or, obtain detailed documentation of the incidents, or to challenge the legality of such meetings.

A reply received from Mayor Mitchell, letter attached, was perfectly satisfactory and was exactly what we wanted. And this should close the matter.

Your editorial, however, placed a totally different twist on the situation. After indicating that we had criticized the past and present policy of the Mayor and the Common Council, you quote me as saying "there really is a problem," and this places us in the position of irresponsibility.

This direct quotation of "there really is a problem" was taken out of context. After I found out that the Mayor had returned, I called him and we discussed the situation, my main concern being the fact that your

Alfonsi's Opinion Adds Weight To Idea of Annual Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — When such a knowing hand in the art of legislative management declares his conviction that the time has come to switch to yearly sessions of the legislature, it is time for sitting up and taking notice.

Paul Alfonsi, who leads the current Republican Assembly majority, who has had more years of service in the legislative branch than most and who expects to be in command of the Republican majority again in 1965, has announced his apparently reluctant conversion to the idea of annual instead of biennial sessions.

Almost surely, his statement will return the plan to serious consideration when the law makers elected in the fall take their seats in January.

The idea is not new. It has been discussed at intervals for a decade and a half, but usually by outside critics and students of government. The politicians have been chary. That Alfonsi should speak up now indicates that circumstances have changed and that the leisurely schedule of legislative deliberations that sufficed for the 19th Century are awkward and unsafe today, in his hard-headed and unsentimental judgment.

GOOD CASE

Considered strictly as a mechanical proposition, a strong case can be made for more frequent legislative review of state problems, including the central issue of financing. The levying of taxes and the provision of an expenditures budget are the primary function of the lawmaking branch. For generations of more stable life, biennial decisions on such matters suited the state's needs.

But today the idea that a member of the legislature, or the legislature as a whole, can render any precise judgments on financial matters over a period that stretches through about 30 months, from the time of deliberation to the expiration of the biennial fiscal period, is pious pretense. A hundred or more factors can affect the revenue structure, on the one hand, or the conditions that govern expenditure needs and obligations, on the other.

Solution for Discarded Refrigerators

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Nearly every week we hear of children being suffocated in refrigerators and it does not need to be said that it is so simple I wonder why no one has mentioned it before. When you discard a refrigerator place it close to a wall with the door against the wall, then a child cannot possibly get into it.

Appleton Should be Proud Of Its New Fire Station

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Yesterday, Fire Chief Raymond Capt. Ploetz and members of the Appleton Fire Department, along with members of the fire service from Northern Wisconsin were guests of the Appleton Fire Department at a demonstration of light foam, a new very efficient extinguishing agent, and a tour of the new fire station.

Keeping up with the latest methods of fire fighting is a very important phase of our work. This will help reduce the terrible annual loss of life and property by fire.

There will be objections to the idea of more frequent legislative sessions. Alfonsi conceded this when he ventured that he may not represent a majority view on the question in his own party.

For one thing, it will add to the penalties of legislative service by stretching out the time service requirements of the members. Either the pay scale will be raised again, or some members will find it difficult to serve. It will be argued that annual sessions can be shorter. But that defies all habit and tradition and the nature of the political animal.

Fiscal conservatives will have their reservations, suspecting that the more exposure of the legislature to spending pressures is arranged, the greater the likelihood of an acceleration of government outlays over that which would be likely in less frequent sessions. Experienced observers must admit, moreover, that it is a legitimate concern. Finally, there is an inherent conservatism in the Wisconsin electorate on fundamental and institutional matters, and any annual session proposition would require a ratifying vote of the people.

The annual session may be on the way. But it cannot yet be predicted.

Looking Backward

'He Lies Like a Copperhead!'

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Sept. 1, 1864.

In a late number of the Independent, the Rev. George B. Cheever says:

"After the slaughter of hundreds of thousands of our citizens, with the corresponding frightful desolation and demoralization of four years war, and a debt of two thousand millions of dollars, we are in all other respects just where we were when Mr. Lincoln began his career."

Just where we were? We were not in any possession of any portion of Missouri except St. Louis. We have the whole State now.

We had no authority in Louisiana; we now had New Orleans, together with a large portion of the State, and a free Constitution has been framed for her pattern.

We had no foothold in Tennessee; we have now the whole State. All of Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia defied our power; we now have considerable influence within these limits, and Commander Farragut will soon have a reckoning with Mobile and the whole river country.

We had no standing ground in Florida or South Carolina; we have for some time had the pleasure of defending the Old Flag within their bounds.

Old Virginia scorned our power; we have long since snatched the half of her away and made a new State of it (West Virginia), while much of the remainder is a hard place for the rebels to live in.

We had a doubtful position in Maryland; now she is a member of the Union, and to all intents and purposes a free State. There was no freedom in the District of Columbia, now not a man is a slave within the Capitol territory.

We had a fugitive slave law to obey; now we are relieved of the disgrace of such a law upon our statute books.

Moscow stands up for Hanoi in its war with the U. S. Navy. Those Communies may have their differences, but they get together when the ships are down.

North Viet Nam claims the U. S. started it. Those defenseless torpedoes were on a peaceful mission when the imperialist destroyers tried to get in front of them and make them explode.

The administration is delighted to have Pierre Salinger in the Senate. He's just the right age — too young to want to be Vice-President, and too old to vote against Medicare.

This is the year when we get a choice, not an echo. We can choose whether to keep the White House dark for another four years, or install gas lights.

And who ever thought the day would come when Walter Cronkite would have to ask CBS for equal time?

Hi-Lo Sirens Not CD, Town Fire Departments

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I am writing to learn the reason for various hi-lo siren signals heard in this area during the past few weeks. These have occurred at times other than the scheduled Saturday noon tests, the most recent being Saturday, Aug. 8, at 9:40 p.m.

It has been my impression that these siren signals were for the very serious purpose of warning Outagamie County residents of enemy attack. Is this no longer correct? If not, my family and I shall ignore future signals of this sort and will consider the substantial cost of the warning system as a waste of county money. If the system is still intended as a civil defense warning, then its use has indeed been careless and irresponsible, to say the least. Much of its value has already been lost, in my opinion.

Karl E. Sager

Appleton

(Editor's Note: The "hi-lo" sirens the writer refers to are believed to be those of several volunteer fire departments in the area. They are not the Civil Defense sirens, which sound only on Saturdays at noon.)

Reader Objects to Unflattering Label of 'Slightly Overweight'

BY ANN LANDERS
 DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to take issue with you and others who write for newspapers and magazines. For years I have been bugged by your snide pokes at those who are a little overweight. We are called "Blimps," "Waddling Landers Ducks," "Baby Hippos" — and countless other unflattering names. Why is it that no one ever says a word about the 50-year-old dame with a face like a dried prune wearing size eight Bermuda shorts and a halter top in the super-market? Her legs look like a canary's and invariably she is clomping around in a pair of wedgies — usually gold. Yes, I am one of the slightly overweight ones, as you may have guessed, but my husband says he'd rather have me this way than looking like a freshly-hatched chicken. Thank you for letting me have my say. — Piece Spoken

 Dear Spoken: You are welcome. And now that I have let you have your say I will undoubtedly be in bad with all the dried prune, canary-legged, size eight ladies in gold wedgies.
 DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was jarred by your advice to the student who griped because the male teachers chummed up to the pretty girls in the class while the female teachers showed partiality to the handsome football players. You said, "A little banana oil is an effective lubricant for the machinery of human relations." Granted, but what can a student do about a clash of personalities? I loathe my English professor and he knows it. He vents his spleen by giving me C's when I deserve A's. In a math class the answers are either right or wrong, but in English a student can get killed on "interpretation, clumsy syntax, over-writing, lack of originality" — ad nauseum. If the professor decides your writing is "pedestrian and unimaginative" who can argue? Is this fair? — Bitter
 Dear Bitter: No it isn't, but where did you get the idea that life is always fair? You are bound to encounter personality conflicts (unless you decide to go live alone on a desert island). The sooner you learn how to deal with all types of people the better. We all know extremely competent individuals who are surpassed by mediocre ones, simply because they can't get along with their superiors. Are you going to be one of them? Take inventory, friend.
 DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 16-year-old has me worried. She is a beautiful girl, has a flair for clothes and is popular. I get so tired of her incessant pitch for compliments that I don't know what to do anymore. Every day she asks, "Do you think my hair is really all right? Should I wear bright lip

Sheinwold Ruff Loser With Small Trump Card

You can often profit by ruffing a loser with an otherwise worthless trump. If you need a ruffing trick, play the trumps in such a way that you don't have to ruff with a trump needed for some other purpose. When West opens the jack of diamonds, declarer must win the trick in dummy with the ace or queen. South will have to ruff a club eventually, and he wants to save dummy's low trump for that purpose. At the second trick declarer leads a club from dummy, losing the king to West's ace. Back comes a trump, and declarer must make sure of winning this trick also in dummy. If South won in his own hand, he would have to ruff a club with dummy's high trump, and this would set up a trump trick for West. South continues with a club to the queen and a low club to a ward dummy. This gives West a chance to step up with the jack of diamonds and thus win a trump trick, but South is still sure of his contract. Can Ruff Later

When West ruffs high, declarer discards a spade from the dummy and saves the trump for a later ruff. No matter what West returns South can get to his hand with the ace of hearts and lead another low club to ruff in dummy. The last club is then good, and South is home. South would lose the contract if he drew West's last trump. He would then have to lose two more club tricks. In effect, West ruffs a trick with his partner would be a trick that win. Still, West cannot gain by refusing to ruff the third round of clubs. If he does, declarer ruffs the club in dummy, gets to his hand with the ace of hearts and then draws the last trump with the king. East gets a club trick, but West does not get a trump.

Daily Question Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S K J 5; H K J 9 6 4; D 2; C J 10 8 6. What do you say? Answer: Bid two hearts. You will raise spades later, thus showing a hand that is too good for a raise to two spades but not good enough for an immediate jump to three spades. (Copyright, 1964)

Sheboygan Judge To Seek Post on High State Court

SHEBOYGAN (AP)—Sheboygan County Judge J.W. Wilkus announced today that he will be a candidate for the Wisconsin Supreme Court in next April's non-partisan election to name a successor to the late Justice William Dieterich. Nathan Heffernan, also a Sheboygan native, was appointed by Gov. John W. Reynolds earlier this week to fill the vacancy until an elected successor takes office for a full 10-year term. Wilkus, a 51-year-old bachelor has been county and juvenile judge at Sheboygan since 1953. He was Heffernan's predecessor as Sheboygan city attorney. Wilkus is serving in that post from 1943 until named to the bench. He is first vice president of the Wisconsin Board of County Judges, and a past chairman of the Wisconsin Board of Juvenile Judges. He is a member of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America and says he has "no previous or present political affiliation."

Pre-Broadway Tour Set for Millay Play

NEW YORK (AP)—A pre-Broadway tour of 24 weeks is scheduled for "Conversations at Midnight," a drama written in 1934 by Edna St. Vincent Millay. The play concerns a cosmopolitan group of visitors to Greenwich Village, where Miss Millay lived for many years. The cast has not yet been announced, but the expedition gets underway Oct. 24 in San Francisco.

My husband has heard some of this talk. He says she is just too confounded stuck on herself and that I should take her down a few pegs instead of buttering her up by telling her what she wants to hear.

Will you give me your views? — Zanzibar
 Dear Zan: Your daughter would not be begging for compliments if she were not starved for reassurance. Try complimenting her without being asked. Such praise is infinitely more meaningful, and it will reduce the fishing.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Lowest July Lake Level In 100 Years

The water level of Lake Michigan remained more than two feet below the average level for the past 10 years, according to the latest U.S. Army Corps of Engineers lake survey bulletin. The end-of-July level was 576 feet on Lakes Michigan and Huron and the July monthly mean level was 575.95 feet, 11 inches below a year ago and also the lowest July level since 1860. July was the seventh consecutive month of record low levels on Lakes Michigan and Huron. The forecast is that new all-time record lows will be established each month through the remainder of the year. Lakes Michigan and Huron reached their yearly seasonal high during July and will fall about one inch to 575.91 feet in August. The normal fall in levels for August is about two inches. The July monthly mean levels on the other great lakes are Lake Superior, 600.75 feet, two inches below a year ago; Lake Erie, 569.52 feet, three inches lower, and Lake Ontario, 244.52 feet, 14 inches below last year. Lakes Superior, Erie and Ontario, however, are all well above all-time record lows.

Oconto Falls Man Dies in Accident

OCONTO (AP)—Byron Peterson, about 54, of Oconto Falls, was killed Friday when a loaded gravel truck backed over him. Peterson, a truck driver, was endeavoring to pull another truck which had become stuck in the yard of an Oconto home. The two vehicles were back to back connected by a chain. Herb Drews, the other driver, said Peterson got out of his cab unknown to him and was standing in back of Drews' truck when the clutch jammed and it rolled backward. Peterson was run over by both the front and rear wheels. Drews was the owner of both trucks.

Oshkosh Man Wins National Award From U. S. Weather Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ralph N. Buckstaff of Oshkosh, Wis., is among 31 volunteer weather observers selected to receive awards, the Weather Bureau announced Thursday. Buckstaff and four other persons or families were named to receive the 1964 Thomas Jefferson awards for unusual and outstanding accomplishments. The others will receive John Campanius Holm awards for continued excellence. Holm was the first known systematic weather observer in the American colonies.

"Now remember, Taffy, when I introduce you to your blind date, make him feel like he's just been hit by the atom bomb!"

HINTS FROM HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Now that hot weather is really here, I have a dandy hint.

I save all of my plastic liquid soap bottles, fill them three-fourths full of water, and put them in my freezer. I do not cut off the tip. When I go shopping I take two or three of these frozen bottles with me. I ask the packer to put all of my meat and dairy products in one bag. I place the frozen water bottles in the bag and when I get home my meat is still cold and my butter is not melted.

This is especially good when you know you are not going straight home from the store. When going on a picnic I take several of these frozen bottles and put them into our lunch basket. The food is kept cold and isn't soggy from melting ice. Sometimes I freeze coffee or tea in these bottles to take on picnics, and when it is time to eat we have wonderful cool drinks. This eliminates carrying an extra thermos along. Be sure one washes all of the soap out of the plastic bottles first.

Dear Heloise: I keep all my roll-on bottles (deodorant, etc.), remove the tops, wash them well, and put my sun lotion in them. And whatever you do, do not loosen the top. Once the top is on well, the sand cannot possibly get in. And do try using old car mats for baseball bases! It's terrific!

Susan Comstock
 Dear Folks: I have often been asked, "What should one wash these bottles out with?" Here is what my chemist says and what we do. It is all according to what the bottle contained. Naturally if it was bleach—that has already

I usually use a little furniture spray. . . just spray the mitten and go at it . . . safely!

Dear Heloise: I have found that a high chair saves me lots of headaches when combing my little girl's hair. I put her into her chair as though I'm preparing to feed her, put the comb, brush, and whatever else I'm going to use on the tray. This way she can't squirm away and I don't have to keep bending and stooping and we're both a lot happier.

Tomahawk Mill Granted Federal Loan

Second Loan Made Since Founding; Byrnes Blasts Move

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK Post-Crescent News Service
 WASHINGTON — The Tomahawk Paper Mill, Tomahawk, Wis., has been granted a $150,000 loan by the Small Business Administration, Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski reported Friday. This is the second government loan made to the mill since its inception about a year ago, when the Area Redevelopment Administration granted a group of paper mill executives nearly $500,000 to construct a new tissue mill.

When the ARA first was considering making the original loan to the Tomahawk company, a number of officials and congressmen protested against it, pointing out that the proposed new mill would be located in the heart of the pulp and paper mill district of Wisconsin.

Add Competition Established mills in the area were not operating at full capacity, and a new mill would simply add competition to an already lagging industry, they said. The mill is located about 15 miles from the Peavey Paper Mills, Ladysmith.

When questioned about the loan, Harold L. Peavey, vice president of the Peavey Paper Mills, said "I feel very bad that a small company such as ours must be in competition with the federal government." He declined further comment concerning the effect of the Tomahawk mill on the Ladysmith operation.

O'Konski said although the Department of Commerce, and the chief economist of the Pulp and Paper Industry Association, in addition to members of Congress, had protested against granting the ARA loan, the ARA went ahead with its plans for financial aid. At the time the ARA loan was made to the Tomahawk Paper Company, Rep. John Byrnes (Republican, Green Bay), blasted it as an example of the "boondoggle" activities of the administration. Reiterating today that the ARA had "made an error" in promoting a new tissue mill in the center of the tissue mill country," Byrnes pointed out that when the original loan was made about a year ago, he had predicted that the mill eventually would be in financial difficulty. When his prediction came to pass, Byrnes remarked that this was another example of the "inaccuracies of the ARA" — "The agency not only made an error in financing a new tissue mill where other mills in the area were not operating at full time, but it also made errors in other industries," he said. "For instance, it loaned money to start a new shoe factory when already established factories were hard pressed to meet foreign competition. There are other numerous examples of errors in other fields."

Set Registration for New Neenah Students

NEENAH — New elementary students, grades kindergarten through grade six, are to register from 9 to 11 30 a.m. and from 1:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday at the administration building, 410 S. Commercial St.

Miss Mary Willis, elementary school supervisor, will register the students and parents of new students are to bring the child's birth certificate and previous year's report card. It is not necessary for the child to accompany the parents for registration.

Dr. Donald Scott, superintendent, states in remaking the announcement, "Students who attended any public school in the Neenah Joint District during 1963-64 are not required to register with Miss Willis as they were registered before school closed this spring. New students who have recently moved into the school district should register on Wednesday."

Pound New Dean Of Agricultural School at UW

MADISON (AP) — University of Wisconsin regents approved the appointment today of Prof. Glenn Pound as dean of the school's college of agriculture.

Pound, chairman of the plant pathology department, will replace Rudolph Froker, resigned.

Pound, 50, is a plant virus researcher. He received his doctorate from Wisconsin in 1946 and joined the faculty as an associate professor the same year. He was promoted to full professor in 1953.

In 1954, Pound was elected chairman of the plant pathology department. Six years later, he was named head of the biological division.

Pound is widely known for his work in plant pathology and is a consultant to the Rockefeller Foundation on Agricultural Problems. He and his wife have two children.

Froker was dean of the agriculture college for 16 years. He submitted his resignation last week and said he planned to return to private work in his field of agricultural marketing.

First place winners at the Green Bay Recreation Department contest, the Maryettes are girls from Menasha and Neenah, ranging in age from 8 to 19. They won the second place trophy at the recent Bratwurst Day in Sheboygan.

Twirling with the Maryettes are: Debbie Klockzien and Mary Meissner, Neenah; Nettie Schmalz, Rosemary Mayshaw, Jill Reimer, Carol Reimer, Karen McCann, Bonnie Winz, Connie Dzialo, Barbara Pawlowski, Ann Hosterman, Shirley Landskron, Debbie Kieper, Carlene Porath, Lynn Gullickson, Susan Doernal, Karen Buss and Mary Dorschner, Menasha.

Set Registration at Trinity of Menasha

MENASHA — The special registration for students at Trinity Lutheran School, Menasha, scheduled for 9 a.m. until noon and 1 to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, is being held for students who have not attended Trinity previously.

The Rev. Walter E. Lichtsinn, pastor, requests that parents report at the school office next week during the designated time to register their children. They are asked to bring the child's birth certificate and last year's report card.

Fees are to be paid on Aug. 31 at the school office and classes will start on Sept. 1.

In addition to serving as principal, he will teach eighth grade and also will be church organist and choir director at Trinity Lutheran Church. Installation services will be conducted Sunday morning by the Rev. G. A. Schaefer. Moldenhauer comes to the Neenah school from Marinette. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Renk Attacks Johnson Farm Program, Proxmire Record

Says Farmer Is Forgotten Man In Fox Cities Area Speeches

President Lyndon Johnson's President Eisenhower's last farm program and Sen. William Proxmire's voting record came under attack Friday in talks given in the Fox Cities area by Wilbur Renk, Sun Prairie, Republican candidate for senator.

The American farmer is the forgotten man in President Johnson's prosperity statistics, Renk charged Friday night in Hortonville. He said "the American taxpayer also has become a victim of the administration's unwise agricultural policies."

Footling the Bill

As the farmer's economic position has degenerated each year, Renk said, the cost of the administration's farm program has soared to new heights.

Department of Agriculture spending, Renk said, "has jumped from $5.4 billion in 1960, to about $7.7 billion for 1963. This represents an increase of 43 per cent in federal spending since 1961 while the farmer's cost-price ratio has dropped nearly 10 per cent."

"Meanwhile," Renk said, "the taxpayer and the farmer alike are footing the bill for a tremendous jump in the Department of Agriculture payroll. The farm population had dropped from 15,635,000 in 1960 to 12,367,000 in 1963. Yet the Democrats have boosted the Agriculture Department payroll from 98,000 employees under Eisenhower to 116,300. It amounts to an 18 per cent increase of federal bureaucrats to administer a farm program for 12 per cent fewer farmers."

Renk, an officer in a family corporation which operates several farms, said "this federal extravagance has not relieved the farmer's financial plight. While the administration was spending an extra $4 billion on agriculture since 1961, the farmer's mortgage debt skyrocketed $4 million higher than under Eisenhower."

He said Johnson's farm program "has hurt the farmer economically and the taxpayer dearly."

"What has Sen. Proxmire been doing to help clean up this mess?" Renk asked.

He said "there are two possible answers. Either he did nothing to help correct the deepening farm depression—in which case he was derelict in his duty as a representative of all the people of Wisconsin. Or, Proxmire tried to develop a farm program but again displayed his ineffectiveness by failing to get his proposals approved."

"Three Sides of Fence"

Speaking at a "Dutch treat" luncheon at the Left Guard restaurant in Menasha Friday noon, Renk also attacked Proxmire, charging the incumbent Democratic senator "has been sitting on three sides of the fence" on many issues.

"When a tax cut looks good, Proxmire's for it," Renk said, "but he still voted against the tax cut bill."

"It is important to have public servants who fight for what they believe in, not ride along with the tide," Renk labeled Proxmire "a more talented campaigner than a senator."

Man in Fight Fined $30 in Justice Court

KAUKAUNA — Thomas Goulder, 21, 610 Water St., Kaukauna, was fined $30 on a charge of disorderly conduct when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahn, municipal justice, Thursday.

Goulder was arrested earlier this month after being involved in a fight with another man near the Chicago and North Western Railway yards.

'Tot Safety Town' Expanding

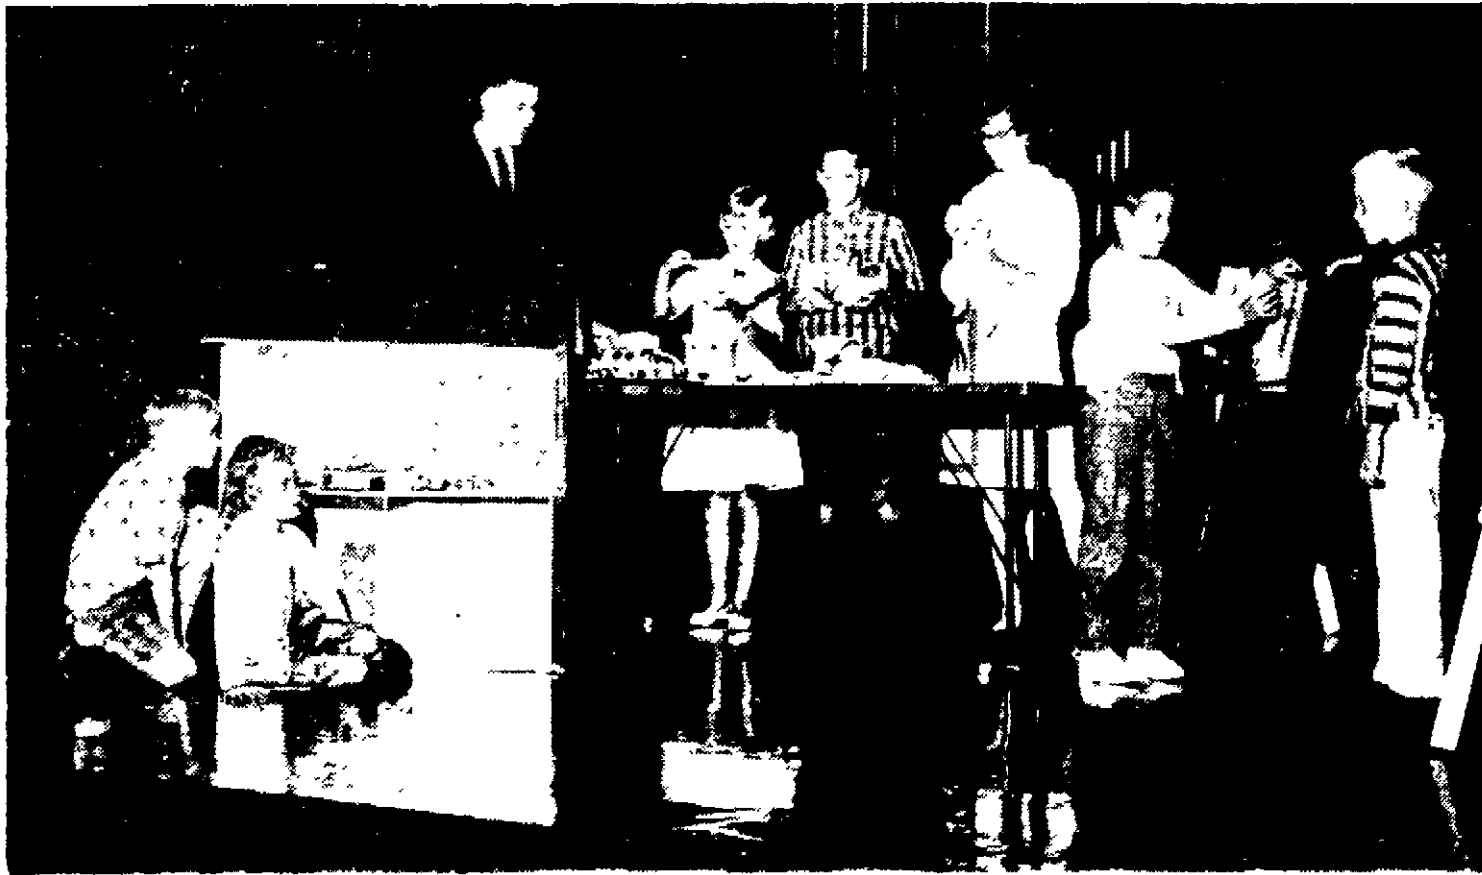

One of the Most Attractive Features for the youngsters participating in the "Tot Safety Town" was the opportunity to man the fleet of 10 peddle-cars, observing traffic signals and stop signs as well as keeping an eye out for pedestrians. Michael Northam obviously had a clear stretch of road ahead of him as he sped down the lane.

A Tractor Was the Vehicle for Diana Dorschner and it obviously took some expert maneuvering as she concentrated on the task.

Just Like Any Adult Motorist, Diane DuChateau grew impatient as she waited interminably for a traffic light to change. (Post - Crescent Photos by Les Grube)

Trip's Sidelights Indicate Its Mood

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

ISLE ROYALE—The little stories, all of which help to make up the whole, may give gentle reader some enlightenment on the tone and the mood of our expedition to this ancient island:

House

I had a terrible few moments one day when I was serving as aide for our scuba diving specialist, Owen Jones, from Milwaukee.

Jones, diving in about 30 feet of water, apparently was struggling with something heavy. This I could tell from the persistent stream of bubbles rising from the depths. I presumed he was tugging on a heavy anchor which he had found earlier.

He was under water too long. We had neglected to arrange a signal which would warn me if he was in trouble. Now, seeing the persistent bubbles and believing he was too long under water, I guessed the big anchor had toppled over on him and was pinning him to the bottom.

I began to strip to go into the water for him, but he rose about then and saved me a dip in the 37-degree waters of Lake Superior. Then, at my insistence, we rigged up his underwater telephone. We could communicate without trouble, and I would be able to hear his request for aid if it was needed.

His words, when he spoke, came up bubbly but he is a jolly fellow and as he worked, he sang "Many (gurgles, gurgles) brave hearts (bubblub) are asleep (bubble-bubble) in the deep."

At last he called up, "Say, Charlie, send down a cigarette (gurgles) and a match, will you?"

If someone ever asks if I went swimming in that cold, cold water I intend to tell them the approximate truth, like this: "Yes, twice. Once for a bath and once because the fellows objected to my cooking."

Our problems were many, of course, because we had to "make do" and invent. Nothing, however, was so great a problem as our comrade, Winston Elting, professor of architecture from the University of Illinois.

Elting is a competent woodsman and he came well-equipped with gear, compasses, binoculars and everything else which can be useful in the "bush."

Trouble was, Elting forgot to bring a coffee cup though he is a devout lover of coffee.

Like pack rats, we all hid our coffee cups from him and it was a running camp joke that the fellow whose cup was found and appropriated by Elting was the poorest woodsman of the lot.

One of our comrades claimed the honors: "I can devise the best hiding places. Win hasn't found my cup for three days!"

One evening—a very cold one—we were sitting around the camp fire and dreading the thought of climbing into our sleeping bags. Though we could cover up well and though we often slept fully clothed, our faces and our heads—out of the bags—were often too cold with the result that we had to duck under for a while and then come out for air.

We talked of many things—archeology, flatworms, sunken ships, the day's discoveries and the cold nights.

At last Phillip Wiegand, our distinguished geologist, spoke out. Wiegand's hair is sparse.

"You know," he asked, "the best thing that even happened to me in my whole life?"

Wiegand has had many notable accomplishments in his fields of chemistry and geology and we all were willing listeners.

"Well," he said, "it was when my wife bought me this hat."

He displayed a heavy, knit woolen tassel cap. He put it on his balding head, pulled it down over his ears—and went to bed.

We camped two nights at Daisy Farms on the southern shore of Isle Royale. So named because it was once a large daisy field, it was a pleasant camp site—level and equipped with shelters and even picnic tables.

It was there that we met a pair of honeymooners—Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Boe from the Fox River Valley. Boe is from Larsen and his pretty wife is from Menasha. Their honeymoon on Isle Royale was, to say the least, unusual.

Charlie House, Post-Crescent Staff writer covering the scientific expedition of the Oshkosh Public Museum sits pensively over his typewriter on the shores of Lake Superior. "I think you could say," he wrote, "that I was stumped." He's sitting on an oaken one and using a discarded apple box for a desk.

Calumet Farmers Told Holding Act Imminent

Plans Discussed at NFO Meeting Centers On Milk Prices; Chance of Success Detailed

SHERWOOD — "I can smell a holding action," the assistant director of the National Farmers Organization told Calumet County farmers Thursday.

Whether farmers will be asked to hold milk, beef or grain is not known, but the NFO officer — Martin Salm, Chilton — said the proposed action will be called "in the not too distant future."

Most of the discussion, however, by Salm and Daniel Vollmer, Hilbert, president of the Calumet County chapter of the farmers group, centered on milk.

In Three Days Vollmer said the NFO believed that if the holding action was concentrated on milk, a price increase, being sought by "all" farmers, would be accomplished in three days.

Salm said the purpose of the NFO was to bargain for better prices for farm products, not to control. He said he believed the only method to achieve better prices was for farmers to organize.

In speaking of current prices, Salm said, "We have no one to blame but ourselves. Every other group is organized in bargaining, except farmers."

Lack of Understanding The assistant director blamed lack of understanding for those opposed to the NFO program, but he said he felt that if holding action was brought about, all would co-operate. The attempted action in 1962 was lost, he said, because of lack of strength.

Car Strikes Tree in Menasha Early Today; Both Occupants Hurt

MENASHA — Both occupants of a car which struck a tree in the 300 block of Willow Lane at 2:40 a.m. today were hospitalized. They were Anthony H. Staniak, 21, 511 Riverway, the driver and James Lotzer, 397 Cleveland St., owner of the car and a passenger in it. Both were taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital in the Neenah fire department ambulance.

Lotzer received lacerations to the head and his condition was described as fair by hospital persons who have qualified for officials. Staniak received lacerations to his arm; his condition was reported as good.

Kaukauna Value Rises $406'305

Increase in Assessed Value Will Bring in $20,000 More Tax Revenue at Present Rate

KAUKAUNA — The assessed value of the city increased $406,305 to a new high of $28,437,675, according to figures released by Lothar Kemp, assessor.

The increase in assessed value for 1964 will bring in slightly less than $20,000 additional property taxes based on the present $49 rate. Without raising the rate, the city will have that much more money to spend next year. The additional revenue is the equivalent of raising the rate nearly $1.

The increase, however, is the second lowest in the last 10 years.

Personal property assessment increased $141,705 from $3,395,920 to $3,537,625 while real estate values increased $284,400 from $24,815,650 to $24,900,050.

Stock Lower Valuation of merchants' stock dropped $13,215 from $529,760 to $516,545. Value of manufacturing stock increased $339,465 from $2,342,895 to $2,463,070. A minor increase of $260 was noted in value of machinery, tools and patterns — $221,540 to $221,800.

Furniture, fixtures and equipment increased to $308,040 from $295,140. Buildings on leased grounds remained at $19,800. Valuation of other personal property, not exempt, increased $1,785 from $6,585 to $8,370.

Land Values Mercantile land and improvements this year were assessed at $1,682,575, an increase of $31,325. Lands are valued at $253,875, an increase of $2,650 over last year while improvements are valued at $1,428,700, an increase of $28,675.

Residential land and improvements are valued at $9,860,700 this year for an increase of $252,825 over the $9,607,875 of last year. Residential land value was set at $1,176,170 for a $9,975 increase over $1,166,295 of last year. Residential improvements were increased $238,950 from $8,445,580 to $8,684,530.

Manufacturing Figures Manufacturing lands and improvements were valued at $13,311,125 this year, down $50 from the 1963 figure of $13,331,175. Land value dropped $5,250 from $72,625 in 1963 to $67,425 while manufacturing improvements were increased $5,200 from $13,263,700 to $13,258,500. The decrease in manufacturing land value was a result of Lieber

Appleton Youth Sent To Reformatory on Auto Theft Charge

Warren D. Schroeder, 17, 1015 N. Appleton St., was sentenced Friday to a term of up to five years in the Green Bay reformatory for auto theft and an additional three months in the county jail for an escape attempt.

Schroeder must serve the term at the Green Bay reformatory before he begins his sentence in the county jail. The youth appeared Friday for sentencing before County Judge Gustave Keller. He was handcuffed to a police officer.

The youth was charged with auto theft by Appleton police and, while in the county jail, attacked a jailer and with a 16-year-old youth attempted to escape. They were restrained by other jailers.

The 16-year-old youth is awaiting juvenile court action. Schroeder was waived from juvenile court.

Relief Clients May Get Milk Samples

Plan Would Distribute Products Used in Appleton Health Tests

Appleton welfare clients would be asked to accept left-over products instead.

Under the proposed program, persons on relief would have to go to the city hall to pick up their milk allotments.

The new proposal was brought to light when the health department requested permission to buy an additional refrigerator stores them in the laboratory at the city hall.

Past practice has been for some health department personnel to take left-over dairy products home. However, when heard of this Mayor Clarence Mitchell ordered it discontinued several weeks ago.

Go To City Hall Since then the health department and City Welfare Director Merton Ehrlicke decided to precedent-setting one.

Woman Appeals Unsuccessfully To Have Children Returned to Her

A Town of Oneida mother who left her two children with Outagamie County welfare authorities Thursday afternoon Friday appealed unsuccessfully to officials to return the children to her.

Mrs. Adelle Rueden, route 1 West DePere, a widow, spoke for several hours with county welfare officials and court authorities before leaving the courthouse in tears about 4:30 p.m.

Welfare Director Alfred Egert said a juvenile court hearing will be scheduled to determine if the woman was neglectful of her children when she took them to the welfare department and told workers there, "you raise them."

Not Told Location The children, Randall Lee, 10, and Ola Gail, 9, were taken to a foster home Thursday afternoon where they will be kept before leaving for a foster home.

Mrs. Rueden reportedly pleaded for the children's return when she and her attorney conferred with Egert and County Judge Stanley Staidt late Friday afternoon. Egert said the woman admitted she left the children Thursday afternoon "as a means of demonstrating" for more assistance.

The woman's husband, Remond, died Sept. 3, 1962, in Green Bay. After his death, the woman and her children lived on the farm. Appleton assistance check Aug. 3, application for assistance was made soon after the husband died.

On Thursday, workers were surprised when the woman woman did not contact the welfare department for assistance. The woman had told Egert said assistance was "go-made toward the family after sen. Appleton. They are scheduled to return about four hours for her return and her children to be in need. Sunday night.

Appleton Boy in Good Condition After Stabbing

16-Year-Old Youth Admits Incident On College Avenue

A 16-year-old Appleton youth is reported in good condition in Appleton Memorial Hospital today after being stabbed during a scuffle in front of The Mark restaurant, 321 E. College Ave., at 11:17 p.m. Friday.

The alleged assailant, also a 16-year-old Appleton boy, is being held in the city jail. The youth admitted the stabbing, according to police. The boy who was stabbed was given first aid by three other youths who saw him bleeding and called police.

Witnesses said the assailant and three other young people left the Appleton Theater and were walking to the restaurant when the boy who was stabbed began following them.

When the foursome neared the restaurant, the youth who was stabbed began stepping on his assailant's heels, witnesses said. Then the youth punched the assailant in the back and began charging him when the assailant stabbed him with the knife, a jackknife with a 2 1/2-inch blade, witnesses said.

Three boys saw the incident, reached the stabbed youth and walked him to Drew Street and College Avenue where they gave him first aid. Th stabbed youth was taken to the hospital by Larry's Ambulance.

The assailant entered the restaurant but had gone when police arrived. When police went to the youth's home, he turned over the knife, admitted the stabbing and was taken in to custody.

Doctors' Pharmacies In Appleton, Neenah Cited in Senate Quiz

Doctor - owned pharmacies in Appleton and Neenah were among the 24 in Wisconsin under attack Friday during a Senate monopoly subcommittee hearing in Washington.

Paul A. Pumpian, Milwaukee, secretary of the Wisconsin State Board of Pharmacy, said Wisconsin druggists were threatened by unfair competition from physician - owned pharmacies.

The committee is investigating what was described as a minor but growing outbreak of small scale business monopoly and conflict of interest among doctors who allegedly are making captive consumers of their patients.

The doctor - owned pharmacies in the Fox Cities were not identified. The committee was told there are also such operations at Shawano and Green Bay.
